RAWLEY SPRINGS, September 10, 1884.
The Medical Society of Virginia convened for its second day's session at 10 o'clock this morning—the President (Dr. J. R. Chancellor) in the chair. The proceedings were opened by the report of Dr. William C. Dabney as chairman of the Committee on Legislation, who stated the exact conditions of the act passed to provide for the Board of Medical Examiners. The committee was discharged, with the fullest thanks of the Society for the exaction in which the members had performed their work. peir work. Dr. L. B. Edwards, of Richmond, then

Dr. L. B. Edwards, of Richmond, then read the report prepared by Dr. Hugh T. Nelson, of Charlottesville, on "Advances in Anatomy and Physiology," The paper was a very good one, and all regretted the absence of the author.

At 11 o'clock, according to established rule, the President's address was read by Dr. J. E. Chancellor. Although a lengthy paper, it was listened to with the closest attention, and was fully appreciated. The Doctor made a "Brief Review of the Origin and History of Medicine," and gave a comparatively full account of the work done by Hippocrates and other "fathers of medicine." He reviewed the different ancient systems—that of Egypt, the se of the

He showed plainly that diagnosis, materia medica, and therapeutics were known to a certain degree so far back as 1600. B. C.

At the close of his paper he suggested that a committee be appointed to prepare the recommendations necessary to make the present bill establishing a Board of Medical Examiners more nearly perfect, and that a committee should be elected to present the cisims of the State Board of Health before the Logislature, and request the members of that body, in view of the possible approach of an epidemic next year, to provide the necessary funds so that the Board could doefficient work in protecting the health of the State. At present the Virginia Board of Health is simply a nullity, as it has no funds whetever to work with. Every suggestion made by the president was well received by the Society, and will eventually be adopted. red by the Society, and will eventually STANAMOVILLE, September 10, 1834.

"Pursuant to notice Colonel C. T. O'Ferrall and C. M. Louthan (Republican), of Garke county, addressed the citizens of Greene sounty here to-day.

Mr. Louthan opened with a speech of an hour and a quarter. For this length of time he made the most labored effort to "get off his speech" and interest the large audience (the court-house being uncomfortably packed). It was beyond doubt the poorest campaign speech it has ever been our majoriume to hear. The burden of his song was the lagislation of the last stasion—via., the law prohibiting certain unfecers to drag their robes of office in the political mire. Louthan is the man who tasted the constitutionality of this law before a court of appeals. He seemed to de-reversatisfaction from the Maine election. He wound up his harangue by lauding Blaine and Logan and damning Cleveland and Hendricks.

He wound up his harangue by lauding Blaine and Logan and damning Cleveland and Hendricks.

O'Ferrali followed in the same length of time. When he arose to begin the very walls of the house shook with the applause with which he was greeted from hundreds of Democratic throats. Four fifths of the crowd seemed to be for bim and Democracy. Certainly no man ever addressed an audience under more favorable circumstances than he did. And no man ever made better use of the opportunity. He poured fire and hail into the ranks of the encury. Colonel O'Ferrall's speech was as good as the other was bad, which is a full meed of praise. As indicated here to-day, and by other information recently derived, this county will give an increased Democratic majority this fall. O'Ferrall is popular here, and the cause he represents is more so. So you may expect a rousing majority in November.

Two years ago Paul "had the crowd" here against O'Ferrall. That day is over now, and you may put Greene down in the Democratic column of counties.

The delegates to the Convention are John E. Graves. W. W. Pettit, S. K. Moores, G. M. Walker, John Lamb, John Bradley, William L. Harrison, and L. A. The meeting was composed of representative Democrats from all parts of the county and a few colored people, and was addressed by Major Baker P. Lee, who had been announced to speak. His speech was one of his best, and was very eloquent and instructive. His statement of the principles and policy and practices of the Republican party, from its origin as a war party to its present struggle for place and power, created a profound impression. His tribute to the "grand old Democratic party" which, he said, could never have been all that it now is without the old Whigs inside of it, called forth repeated and prolonged cheers. Major Lee's elocution and rhetoric are of the ornate and classic style of Virginia's orators of "ye olden time," and captivates, while his logic convinces. He is a great favorite in the Eastern section, where he has made many brilliant campaigns for our party.

John A. Buchanan, Esq., and Hon.
Daniel Trieg met Colonels R. B., Berkley and J. S. Browning in joint discussion at Meadow View, in this county, last night.

Mr. Buchanan led off in a very powerful speech. His arraignment of the Republican party was terrife. He is one of the ablest lawyers in this end of the State, and made one of his best arguments last night, relating with telling effect Colonel Berkley's political history.

Colonel Berkley replied, pleading guilty to every indictment made against him and in this section if he centinues to make similar speeches.

Mr. Trigg followed bim in a speech of great force. He told how Berkley tad figured before the last Legislature for office and of his defeat by Flournoy, and said he was sorry that Berkley had told the people of this rection that failure to get office, and the fact that Mahone was applauded when he entered the Chicago Convention, had caused him to join the enemies of the South.

Mr. Trigg is one of the cest stumpers in Virginia.

Colonel Browning closed. He made no points, but spoke in a rambling manner;

The Chippewa and Eau Claire Rivers Boom ing-Great Destruction of Property. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., September 11.— Chippena Falls, Wis., September 11.—
The most disastrous flood ever known in this section is now upon us. The Chippewa river has risen twenty feet since Tuesday night at 12 o'clock, and is still growing higher at the rate of one foot per hour. Three railroad-bridges are in great danger, and a wagon-bridge is hourly expected to go. All of the upper dams on Duneau creek, which passes through the town, are out. A portion of the flood from Course reached here at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and swept away every bridge, five in number, together with a large number of buildings, including Kehel's planing-mill, Collins's feed-store, Stiles, Lego & Balley's liverystables, and Stumm & Wiever's agricultural-buildings. The loss in the city so far is estimated at $100,000. The worst is still to come, however, as a dam fourteen miles north of here passed out yesterday afternoon and released 750,000 feet of logs, which it is feared will do great damage in their course down the stream.

Some of the principal losses are John E. Glover, saw-mill, machine and lumber, $100,000; A. A. Ingalls, general store, $10,000; Smith & Lewis, atore, $4,000. The total loss in Clear Lake vicinity will reach at least $232,000. vicinity will reach at least $250,000.

Bill Nye, of the Laramie Boomerang notoriety, was driving with his brother about three miles cast of Clear Lake when the tornado struck them. He was lifted the three miles east of Clear Lake when the tornado struck them. He was lifted clear out of the wagon by the wind and dashed to the side of the road. His right leg was broken in two places below the knee. His brother was only slightly injured, and walked back to Clear Lake and procured help, but it was six hours before the injured man could be brought to town, owing to the road being blocked with fallen trees. About forty buildings were wrecked in Clear Lake, including the Methodist, Congregational, and Lutheran churches. Humboldt & Co.'s saw-mill, three miles east of here, was destreyed, causing a loss of $10,000. THE CHOLERA PLAGUE.

Another Banker's Suicide.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]
WASHINGTON, September 11.—J. H.
Washington, September in Liser, as private banker in this city, committed suicide this morning at his residence, 1514 K. street, northwest. Squier became heavily involved in business troubles, and was obliged to make an assignment a few months obliged to make an assignment a few months ago. The legal proceedings that followed showed that the bank was hopelessly insolvent, and Squier has been the object of severe criticism at the hands of the public press. It as stated that his troubles weighed upon him to the extent of affecting his sanity, and that he had been closely watched by his family for some time past.

Last night and this morning he complained of severe mental depression, and about 8 o'clock this morning, while his wife was temporarily absent from the room, he seized a small pocket-knile and cut his throat.

a small pocket-knife and cut his throat. Physicians were summoned almost immediately, but could render no assistance, and the unfortunate man died in a short time. He leaves a wife and two children, aged fifteen and nine years. The attending physicians entertain no doubt that Squier was suffering from temporary aberration of mind when he committed the fatal act.

Reduction of Wages or Suspension of Work.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] PHYSELEGIA, September 11.—On account of the depression in trade the Edgar Thompson Steel Company notified their employes that unless they accepted a reduction of wages a suspension of operations would be necessary. Andrew Carnegie is the head of the company, which employs nearly 5,000 men. The probabilities are that the reduction will be accepted, as the number of idle men in this vicinity is greater now than it has been at any time during the past ten vears. Only about half the mills and glass-facto-Only about balf the mills and glass-factories are in operation, and there is great dis-tress among the poor in consequence. The Poor Board officials have nearly exhausted the appropriation for out-door relief, and it has six months yet to run. It is estimated that there are 4,000 vacant rooms on ac-count of the poorer classes doubling up to

New York, September 11.—Henry S.
Burger, Richard W. Hurlburt, and Cyrus
A. Healy, surviving partners of the firm of Burger. Hurlburt & Livingston, sugarrefiners, 91 Wall street, of which the late John A. Livingston was a member, to-day filed an assignment, giving preferences amounting to about $170,000.

The cause of the assignment of the firm is said to be depression in trade. No estimate of the assets and liabilities can at present be given, but schedules will be immediately prepared. A meeting of the creditors will be called, and it is expected that a compromise will be effected. The firm has been in business forty years and has always ranked well.

GRAND RATIFICATION.

DEMOCRACY OF THE DISTRICT.

Great Demonstration in Washington—Big Perade, Speeches by Fromiseut haea, and Resolutions Expressive of Logalty.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)
Washington. September 11.—The Democracy of the District of Columbia ratified the nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks Ly a grand open-aigs demonstration tonight. A street parade of local Democratic organizations and Democratic clubsfrom the country: a meeting on the plaza in front of the City Hall; speeches from men prominent in the Democratic ranks; and the adoption of resolutious expressive of the loyalty of the Democratic of the District to the standard-bearers of the party, constituted the important features of the ratification. Electric lights, a grand display of fireworks, music, flags, and the booming of cannon were the accompaniments. The procession was headed by the Jackson Democratic Association, the oldest Democratic organization in the bistrict, and following came four divisions composed of District clubs and visiting organizations from Virginia and Maryland. It is estimated that 5,000 torches were in line.
Transparencies abounded, bearing significant inscriptions. As the line turned into the avenue and Fifteenth street thousands of rockets, bombs, and Romancandles were set off, and at intervals cannon drawn by horses boomed heavily.
The sidewalks along the line of march were packed with a moving mass of humanity, and the colored population of the District
turned out in force to view the procession.
Pennsylvania avenue during the progress of the procession presented a scene of rare magnificence. Poworful electric lights enclosed in reflectors at the Capitol and Treasury and scores of smaller electric lights along the line of march poured Boods of light upon the sea of fire of thousands of torches.

The meeting proper was held directly in front of the City Hall and the large plaza

The principal stand, erected on the portice of the City Hall and just behind the Lincoln statue, was magnificently decorated, national emblems, portraits of condidates, and flags of all nations being prominently displayed. Electric lights, Chinese lanterns, and gas, seeds the scene as prelibrates above. made the scene as brilliant as day. On the principal stand were the leaders of the District Democracy and eminent Demo-crats from abroad, among them severa members of Congress. A large concourse of people filled all the space on the City Hall portico and steps in rear of this stand. The feature of this gathering, as of the main body of specta-tors, was the large proportion of ladies present. The principal speakers here were Senator Jones, of Florida; Hon. Bradley T. Johnson, of Maryland; Representatives Murphy of Iowa, Ellis of Louisiana, and Post of Pennsylvania. The overflow meetings were addressed by Hon-Eppa Hunton, General Rosecrans, Colo-nel M. D. Ball, of Alexandria, and State Senator E. E. Meredith, of Virginia.

PIG-IRON PRODUCTION.

Plan for Restriction Agreed Upon by the Finn for Restriction Agreed Upon by the Western Association.

(By telegraph to the Dianatch.)

PITTSBURGH, September 11.—The proposition to shut down all the pir-fron furnaces for four weeks in the next two months having been abandoned as impracticable, the Western Pig-Iron Association have decided upon a new plan for restricting the production. Instead of four weeks' stopnage to be made within two months, the length of time is to be fixed by each operator. A circular mailed from their offlice in this city to-day says: We ask each furnace of the country to join in a movement looking to the restriction of production on a plan that shall be so broad as to take in the peculiar circumstances of each. The only the peculiar circumstances of each. The only terms laid down as to restriction are that it shall take place within the next six months, and that the restriction shall be in such a way and at such a time as shall suit the convenience of the furnaces, either by banking for one long period or for several short periods within this time, or by blowing out earlier and starting later than contemplated, or, where the concern has contemplated, or, where the concern has several furnaces, by putting one or more of them out of blast, or by running furnaces at reduced capacity. In addition to this it is contemplated in the plan that if the restriction of production should result in the price advancing to $20, or the stocks at the furnaces being reduced to 100,000 tons, then the agreement will no longer be binding.
